ABOUT THE ARTIST

"Tea for Who?"

by Steve Bomaster

Steve approaches the creative arts with a truly refreshing sense of whimsy and freedom. Though relaxed and casual in most settings, he often begins each composition with much deliberation, setting out first with an idea or vision. Having a fascination with natural forces such as wind and water, Bomaster explores the themes of flight, floatation, ecology, and cosmology. In addition to working in the visual arts, Steve composes moving and sometimes humorous poetry, the themes of which are similar to those found in his artwork.

Aspire of WNY's iXpress is an expressive arts program designed to integrate the supported artists into the world of art and the local community. The artists express themselves through the creation of mixed media art, including paintings, sculptures, poetry and music.
